

Consultation response from: Consumer Scotland. Received by email on 1/11/2024

Good morning,

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to the consultation on the Future of the Ban on Acquisition-only Tariffs beyond March 2025. Consumer Scotland's position, as outlined below, is non-confidential.

Consumer Scotland responded to the May 2024 statutory consultation on the Future of the Ban on Acquisition-only Tariffs, opposing the proposed lifting of the BAT from October 2024. We do not believe that the conditions within which this decision was reached have materially changed, and therefore we support extending the BAT until March 2026.

If you wish to discuss this further with us, please get in touch.

Kind regards,

Michael
