
Ofgem Innovation Hub Standard Legal Disclaimer

The following applies when we make a statement to a person that gives them informal feedback on their proposed innovation:

1. The views expressed in the statement may not have been endorsed by our senior management or any relevant Ofgem Boards. If you are aware of any information that you believe would affect our position expressed in the statement you should inform us immediately.
2. The authors of the statement are only in a position to offer some initial views of an indicative and non-binding nature on the material provided to them. The positions reflected in the statement may be subject to change or review in certain circumstances, for example (without limitation):
 - on further consideration of the information provided;
 - on receipt of further material information;
 - where a member of Ofgem staff or a relevant Ofgem Board reaches a different view; or
 - following a change in law that relates to the proposed innovation.
3. The statement does not represent an approval or endorsement of your proposed innovation. Neither you, nor anyone acting on your behalf may refer to the statement, either expressly or by implication, in a way that suggests that Ofgem has approved, endorsed, or otherwise accepted that you or your innovation complies with regulatory requirements.
4. The statement is made without prejudice to any decision or action Ofgem may take in the future, including enforcement or other regulatory action.
5. Ofgem accepts no legal liability in contract or in tort for the accuracy and / or quality of the information provided.
6. You may share the statement (in full) with person(s) involved in developing or financing (for example, but not exclusively, debt, equity or grant (public, private or third sector) providers) your proposed innovation. You may also disclose the statement to your legal advisers or auditors provided attention is drawn to this disclaimer.

7. You may not, without our express permission, share the statement or contents of documents with any other third party (either in part or in full). Neither the Gas and Electricity Markets Authority nor any person acting on its behalf may be held responsible for the use which may be made of the information contained in the statement.
8. It is not Ofgem's role to provide legal advice and any information or comment provided by Ofgem is not a substitute for independent legal advice on your own circumstances. It is your responsibility to assess compliance with regulatory requirements.